Hen. N. W. Rewell, formerly provincial Liberal leader in Ontario, privy council in the Federal Government, is out in a letter to his constituents. The illiberal and intolerant attitude of one section of he says. The organized liquor traffic now look on Hartley Dewart, recently chosen Ontario provincial leader, as their rising hope. Out of the 132 Liberal rising hope. It may fulfill the hopes of its originators of the cautious element, who see a tactical blunder.

The elements of unrest are still to be reckoned with. Some good Liberals who want to see all sections of Liberals who was called a year too soon, and that it is only playing into the hands of the Unionists to hold a convention now when problems of readjustment remain unsolved and before the leaders of thought are sure of their ground. To determine a policy now is fike taking a leap in the dark. It was sometimes very necessary in war to take long risks, but never advisable to do so unless circumstances forced to section.

No Call for Haste.

At the present time there is no call for immediate action. Sir Robert Boris proceeding cautiously, never making haste in dangerous grown made after his own trusted men have made the advance and reported back. The Prime Minister is in no haste with con-struction of his Cabinet. There is no reason why he should be.

The passing of Sir Thomas White will create no void. A new Minister of Finance may be chosen who has a firm grasp on the first principles of taxation and public finance and leave the Cabinet stronger to meet the next sension of Parliament than before. Meantime the Liberals will show their hand. Sir Robert is on a vaccation up the Gatineau somewhere. Hon Arthur Meighen and somewhere. Hon, Arthur Meighen and Hon, J. A. Calder, Western Ministers, will help pick a good man for Minister of Agriculture in place of Hon. T. A.

A national policy on the tariff and prohibition will be one of the knotty problems of puzzling for the Liberals to Liberal convention adopted strong pro-hibition planks in the party platform, Lenine and Trotsky, and linking it with and at the same meeting chose for the Russian Soviet Bureau here, which leader a man who is avowedly anti-prohibition, Hartley Dewart, K. C. In and published in the papers Monday, Quebec, where the Liberals hope to hold a strong majority, there is a law allow-ing wine and beer to be sold.

Most of the provinces have upheld prohibitory laws by popular vote. But

Attorney-General Newton from White most of the problem of the problem of the provinces can only stop the retail sulphur Springs, W. Va., in which sells within their boundaries. Manufacture, importation and interprovincial traffic are under control of the Federal high public official would descend to such methods of prejudicing a case in advance of trial."

A bill was passed at the recent seasion of Parliament by the lower house

ston of Parliament by the lower house providing for bone dry conditions in any province that had voted for such measure. It was defeated by the Senate. How the Liberals convention will deal with that question remains to be seen. The Senate is sharply criticised, but there is a large body of sound public opinion behind it.

It will be no easy task for the Liberals to frame a tariff policy that will satisfy East and West. The prairie province Liberals want free trade. Easter. Liberals moderate low tariff, with consideration for existing industries. Western farmers see the difficulty. The Manitoba grain growers declared there will be eighty farmer members in the next Parliament. That is probably over-

Ment.

Senate reform will be good for some pyrotechnics at the Liberal meeting. That was made a plank in 1893, and will no doubt do service again. Between the radicals who want no Senate and the moderates who are not satisfied with the prevent arrangement there is material for a very wordy academic talk fest. According to the Constitution Senators are appointed for life by the Federal Government, nominally by the Governor-General. When a party remains in power for a few years the Senate takes on the same complexion. But as on prohibition the upper house. But as on prohibition the upper house sometimes goes off on a tour of its own. Like the House the Senate has graded values in its personnel, but it will average up quite equal to the House of Commons in respect to talent and ca-pacity for good legislation. tion Felt.

Ottawa, July 15.—Reports from the provinces all indicate activity in selection of delegates and a large attendance at the National Liberal convention in this city on August 5-7. It is becoming quite clear that the reunion of Liberals, which was believed possible after the war, will not be effected by the coming convention. # PAMPHLETS BLAMED FOR RIOTS AT ROME

Much I. W. W. Literature Is Found in Homes of Strike Leaders.

Special Despatch to Tun Sux. ALBANY, July 15 .- Major George F Chandler, superintendent of the State Police, declared to-night that large quantities of Bolshevik and L. W. W. literature had been found by the constabulary in the homes of the men who led the strike riots at Rome yesterday and this morning, and that he believed this material was largely responsible for the disorders. Major Chandler came to Albany to make an official report to Gov. Smith on the work of the sixty-five State troopers, who were rushed to Rome last night on orders from the Governor and how they had

"Things were so quiet this noon, following several hours of excitement during which the troopers cleared the streets of throngs of strikers ready for trouble, that I decided I could come away," declared Supt. Chandler. "The people are particularly pleased with the manner in which the troopers handled the situation.

"We raided several of the house where the rioters congregated and found several bags full of I. W. W. propa-ganda, which we confiscated. The docu-ments declared that the working people of this country had no chance to pro-

This man and several others were taken to the hospital suffering from bruised heads.

Most of the men arrested were charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Superintendent Chandler of the State police, before he left for Albany, said he had found that the Italians of the district were in deadly fear of the Black Hand, and that this fear was so pronounced that on one occasion an Italian detective on the Rome police force refused to go openly and point out a Black (DA).

Judge Thomson's decision followed arguments by counsel representing the pittsburg brewing officials and by R. L. Crawford. United States District Attorney. The court also stated that the decision applied to demurrers filed yesterday morffling by eight directors of the Independent Brewing Company to a similar suit started last Saturday.

Counsel for the brewers had asked that the suits be dismissed because it.

alleged to have been brewed and sold was intoxicating. Attorneys for the Government maintained, however, that the sale of beer containing more than one-half of 1 per cent, alcohol constituted a violation of the war time pro-hibition law. After Judge Thomson had handed down his decision each of the defendants was held in $1,000 bail for trial in the November term of court. In arguing for the brewers before Judge Anderson in Boston Attorney Robert G. Dodge contended that the word ert G. Dodge contended that the word 'beer" in the statute passed by Congress on November 21, 1918, did not refer to non-intoxicating beer, while Assistant United States District Attorney Goldberg

Contended that "beer" was beer.

"The clause does not prohibit other non-intoxicating mail liquors, such as non-intoxicating male, stout and porter," said Mr. Dodge, "but only beer. In the statute dealing with the importation of liquors beer is not mentioned, and it is transactively. reconceivable that Congress would-place a ban on the manufacture of beer and dlow its free import."

In handing down his decision Judge

Anderson said that it was not the busi-ness of the courts to make legislation "You ask me," he said, "to rule that the sale of a liquor commonly called beer is unlawful. I think this might apply equally to ginger ale, which is sometimes called ginger beer. To misapply the serieus purpose of Congress in trying to conserve food and down rum would be ridiculous. I have not the slightest doubt that Congress in-tended to prohibit the sale of intoxi-cating liquors, and not prohibit the sale f non-intoxicating liquors. "If the Government had not admitted that the word 'intoxicating' had been left out of this complaint I should have overruled the demurrer, but this admision of the Government eliminates that question. There is nothing before me regarding intoxicating liquors. The ques-tion has nothing to do with temperance.

WASHINGTON, July 15 .- A man's right keep liquor in his own home, which tood the test before the House Judiciary as the sale and brewing of beer are concerned, practically unchanged.

In Pittsburg the Government won its case, when Judge W. H. S. Thomson of the United States District Court oversign of the Pittsburg and Independent Brewing companies to charges of violation of the war time prohibition law. But in Boston demurrers filed on behalf of Leopold H. Vogel of the firm of Petts & Vogel, liquor seliers charged with the same offence, were sustained by Judge Gorge W. Anderson of the United States District Court there.

Judge Thomson's decision followed arguments by counsel representing the arguments by counsel representations.

"As a sovereign power, the United States could not be made the defendant in a civil suit but it is possible, especially in this evolutionary and revolutionary period of diplomatic channels," said the section of liquor stored prior to July I.
